Clem Junebug–Ghost Detective* (mockumentary; running time 65 min.)

Aside from portraying 9 characters in his film, Béla produced, directed, designed, as well as composed the music to this one-man-show film, about a wannabe Ghost Detective Clem Junebug and his inept team of psychics, who attempt to resolve a widow's ghostly issues – a farting ghost. However, in the midst of the investigation, much to Clem's astonishment, he uncovers an unsolved murder surrounding the farting ghost.

The film's awards/nominations: Best Feature at the (July) 2015 Los Angeles Cinefest; a Gold Reel Award/Best Feature Category at the Nevada International Film Festival; a Royal Reel Award at the 2016 Canada International Film Festival in Vancouver; and a Best Comedy Feature at the 2016 Berlin International Filmmaker Festival.

Excuse Me? What?! (Comedy Short; running time 7 min. A segment from the Clem Junebug Feature.)

1969. Food caterer Joey Putzano, is interrogated clumsily by two, dim-witted, FBI agents, accusing Joey of pulling a pie hit murder in 1960, on "Butt Burp" fart cushion millionaire, Morty Bobinowitz.

Visitors, the first mockumentary on UFOs, aliens and abductions. It covers almost believable accounts of unheard stories. Such stories as: A crashed UFO during the American Civil War; a WWI British, cross-dressing general who seizes a crashed UFO and occupant; a hippy from Sedona who channels to the aliens via a table hockey game; and a psychiatrist who hypnotizes a Portuguese cleaning lady, who was hired by an alien family to clean their flying saucer.

Dr. Jessie Windthropp III presents:
Untold Mysteries from The Vaults (Humour)
Available on Amazon.

World renown, British, ufologist investigator, Dr. Jessie Windthropp III, (aka, the Sherlock Holmes of the unexplained), discloses 10, never before told, bizarre, short stories on the UFO and E.T., genre.

From the depths of his private vaults, Dr. Jessie Windthropp III, presents his favourite and unbelievable, firsthand investigations to the public.

Welcome to my collection of humorous true, short stories about people's wacky, embarrassing, humorous and looney experiences in life.

No matter what the scenario, it never fails how some of us always seem to fall victim to some unexpected and hilarious, zany circumstance.

Of course, some of us have our personal faux pas, while others are bullseye suckers who continue to create lunacy amongst us and are in need of an urgent reboot.

“You’re Imagining Things. It’s All In Your Head”

Exhibited 32 (24” x 36”) photo-illustrated, digital, giclée printed posters at a gallery. The posters are a compelling myriad of offbeat and wacky, unconventional themes, expressed in a Twilight Zone-esque mood or in a whimsical dream state.

The works overall, visually present an unprecedented sense of jabbing witticism and editorial crucifixions about our society’s all too familiar foibles.

The book bearing the same title, features 51 posters and is available on amazon.ca.

<https://vimeo.com/284613782>

Currently producing a low-budget comedy film entitled, “Driving Me Nuts!”.

Synops:

A driving instructor is at his wit's end and is just about to throw in the towel with his incorrigible adult/senior driving pupils. The film implements and composites actors into animated, colourful, comic-like, surreal, textural settings. More excerpts can be found on my website: <https://www.innerlightconcepts.com/in-the-works>

Producing an audio book of my books:

Dr. Jessie Windthropp III presents: Untold Mysteries from The Vaults.

The audio book will contain an array of characters, SFX and original music.

In essence, to essentially recreate and capture the ambience of an early, serial, radio show.

Producing an album of my music compositions – Blender Tunes.

It will feature a diverse collection of music. Such as: country, classical, electronic, opera, rock, rockabilly, heavy metal and other forms of muzak.

Most of the music is satirized and accompanied with a variety of vocal characterizations.

For the moment, a first draft cover has been designed.
